● Wyrażenie to be going to. Wyrażenia tego używamy, gdy mówimy o tym, co zamierzamy zrobić w przyszłości lub gdy wiemy na pewno, że coś wydarzy się w najbliższej przyszłości.

| formy twierdzące | formy przeczące (długie) | formy przeczące (skrócone) | formy pytające |
|---|---|---|---|
| I am going to rest. | I am not going to rest. | I'm not going to rest. | Am I going to rest? |
| You are going to rest. | You are not going to rest. | You aren't going to rest. | Are you going to rest? |
| He is going to rest. | He is not going to rest. | He isn't going to rest. | Is he going to rest? |
| She is going to rest. | She is not going to rest. | She isn't going to rest. | Is she going to rest? |
| It is going to rest. | It is not going to rest. | It isn't going to rest. | Is it going to rest? |
| We are going to rest. | We are not going to rest. | We aren't going to rest. | Are we going to rest? |
| You are going to rest. | You are not going to rest. | You aren't going to rest. | Are you going to rest? |
| They are going to rest. | They are not going to rest. | They aren't going to rest. | Are they going to rest? |